

Subject: Import and Export

Details: An import is a good brought into a jurisdiction, especially across a national border, from an Initial Quote (INR) party bringing in the good is called an importer.[1][2] An import in the receiving country is Lowest Quote (INR) ending country. Importation and exportation are the defining financial transactions of Freight International trade. In international trade, the importation and exportation of goods are limited by import quotas and mandates from the customs authority. The importing and exporting jurisdictions may impose a tariff (tax) on the goods. In addition, the importation and exportation of goods are subject to trade agreements between the Import Haulage (INR) jurisdictions.
